

Optimal Solutions partners with Clifton Early Childhood School

By CHRISTY BARKER

Optimal Solutions chief executive officer Gurvendra Suri and Optimal employees recently joined Irving Independent School District superintendent Jack Singley, Clifton Early Childhood School principal Mary Rudisell and Clifton staff at an official signing ceremony inaugurating Optimal Solutions as a school sponsor. This makes Clifton among the first early childhood schools in Irving to have a corporate sponsor.

As a sponsor for Irving ISD's Partners in Education Program, Optimal Solutions, in addition to providing financial support to the school, will volunteer time in various activities, such as reading to students, conducting book and school supply drives and employees will participate in the school's Adopt a Family program.

Rudisell said it is a tremendous boost for the faculty and students to know that local businesses care and are willing to get involved.

"There are many ways for businesses to give back to the community, but few are as rewarding as spending time helping to prepare young children for success in school and in life," Suri said. "The principal and teaching staff at Clifton are truly dedicated to providing a nurturing and challenging learning environment for their students. We are blessed to be able to help support their effort."
